

ENLISTED MARINE AIRCREWMAN OF THE YEAR

For professional achievement in the performance of his duties as Enlisted Aircrew Night Systems Instructor (NSI), Naval Air Training and Operating Procedures Instructor, and as Quality Assurance Representative for VMM-764, MAG-41, 4th MAW, from 1 January to 31 December 2019. Sergeant Colucci coached enlisted aircrew through the completion of 51 initial training events and led countless hours of classroom discussions. While providing leadership in the air, he proved equally as valuable to the maintenance department by concurrently serving as the Quality Assurance Division's Quality Assurance Representative (QSR). As a multi-systems QSR, he oversaw eleven maintenance programs and directly contributed to the squadron's outstanding 4th MAW Maintenance Program Inspection results, the highest score in the entire Wing. Sergeant Colucci's worthy performance—both in the air and on the ground—delivered a combined arms and direct impact to aviation safety, maintenance, and operations which reflected credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.
